

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

MAILS FOR EUROPE.

WASHINGTON, April 21, 1863.
THE ADMISSION OF WEST VIRGINIA INTO THE UNION.

The President has issued a proclamation, declaring that the act for the admission of the State of West Virginia into the Union shall take effect from and after sixty days from yesterday, proof having been adduced to him that the conditions of admission—viz.: certain emancipation changes in her constitution—have been complied with.

NATIONAL BANKING ASSOCIATION UNDER THE CIVIL WAR ACT.

The Treasury Department has for some days past been sending out the form of "preliminary certificate" to its members with national banking associations under the Currency and Banking Law. This certificate requires the applicants to state the name and title of the association, its location, and where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on; the amount of the capital stock, the name and residence of each of the shareholders, with the number of shares held by each; and the time the business of the association is to commence. The certificate is made in order that the subscribers may avail themselves of the advantages of the act to provide a national currency; secured by a pledge of United States stocks, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof, approved February 25, 1863. The blanks will be filled so as to show the numerical order of the organization and the locality. For example—
The first National Banking Association of —; the second, &c. The applications are already numerous, embracing millions of dollars.

APPOINTMENT OF COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

There has as yet been no appointment of Comptroller of the Currency in place of Mr. Groat, declined.

CAUTION IN REGARD TO OFFENSIVE OPERATIONS.

More than usual care is taken by officers connected with the government to prevent the improper disclosure of information relative to offensive operations against the rebels. It is known that heretofore both military and naval officers have complained that newspaper publications have seriously interfered with the execution of their plans.

GUE SICK AND WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

A large number of sick soldiers have been brought hither from the Army of the Potomac during the past week, where they can be more comfortably attended, at the hospitals in this vicinity.

ARRIVAL OF GOV. PARKER, OF NEW JERSEY.

Gov. Parker, of New Jersey, is in the city, en route, as it is understood, for the Army of the Potomac. Lt.-Governor Newell and Hon. Henry D. Foster are also here.

GENERAL VAN ALLEN.

Gen. Van Allen has applied to be assigned to duty in the field.

THE CASE OF COL. D'UZIAZY.

The court martial in the case of Col. D'Uziasy bids fair to last as long as some of its predecessors. The proceedings are immeasurably lengthened from the fact that a large portion of the evidence has to be given through an interpreter and afterwards verified by him and the accused. The cross-questioning of the prisoner is also very lengthy and searching and raises numerous questions of military law for decision by the Court. It is hardly probable that Col. D'Uziasy's request to be released from the duration of a guard will be granted, notwithstanding Major Gen. Hitchcock's approval, as Judge Advocate Haines is opposed to it. Considerable excitement was created in the court, when private Jackey, answering a question of Col. D'Uziasy, whether he had not been guilty of stealing forage, said, "Yes, for Col. D'Uziasy."

THE STOLEN SOLDIERS' CHECKS.

The allodium checks stolen at Stoneman's switch from the One hundred and Twenty-fourth New York regiment were numbered from two thousand four hundred and fifty to thirty thousand. Any information in regard to allodium checks of these numbers should be sent to C. Hogan, Treasury detective here.

THE HOMESTEAD ACT.

The Secretary of the Interior has decided that those who have heretofore acquired lands conferring in certain cases pre-emption rights are not thereby excluded from the privileges of the Homestead bill.

CONSULAR RECOGNITION.

The President has recognized Johann Schumacher as Consul for the Free State of Bremen, at Boston.

FRESH COTTON SHIRTS FOR DISTRIBUTION.

The Hon. Isaac Newton, Commissioner of Agriculture, early appreciating the importance of a supply of cotton seed being obtained, furnished to parties living in localities where the cultivation of cotton is practicable, took measures to obtain a quantity of the seeds for that purpose. An agent was despatched to North Carolina, who succeeded in procuring some fifteen hundred bushels of seeds of a good quality, which are now ready for distribution upon application to the Agricultural Department.

THE WOMEN OF TURKEY.

Mr. Oscanyan's lecture on the "Women of Turkey," at the Cooper Institute, was more entertaining and successful than any he had previously delivered. Among the audience we noticed many distinguished citizens and eminences, with their families. The platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay, and Dr. Prince, of the Observer. Dr. Prince, who has travelled extensively in the East, introduced Mr. Oscanyan in a most flattering and enthusiastic manner, assuring the audience that this lecture was repeated for the third time at the special request of several gentlemen who highly appreciated it, and that the descriptions were very graphic and the illustrations true to life.

Mr. Oscanyan, after explaining the rationale of social life in the East, described the appearance of the Oriental ladies, both at home and abroad, their habits, manners, &c. There being no bells in Turkish houses, and eminences, with their families, the platform was cleared of the usual array of chairs, evidently to make room for the living illustrations, and was occupied only by Judge Daly, the Hon. William R. Macay,